ABOUT THE BOOK Review Microgram Publishing Corporation's highly successful "Psychology of the Communicati" on of all the messages is the "trivial, but important." They are worth paying attention to, and it is with the intellectual sensation. According to the article, the majority of people can not get enough of a quick response, many of them are kept waiting too long. If it takes time, why not go to school or work, on a daily basis. A great deal of attention and time is a big obstacle for people to get connected with one another. They feel bad when the other person does not answer. This problem is bad, because, no matter how much time it takes, they have to get back to them later. The problem is exacerbated when you need to establish a relationship with someone, make plans, or try to manage something together. Waiting for a long time, people worry and get distracted by a variety of things. You have time, or the other person has, but it will be better if they are connected with you. Yes, one-on-one conversations with acquaintances are good and not rushed, but if you talk for a long time without getting a response from someone, you will feel as if they do not care about you. How long should you wait for a response? The answer is that you need to think about the reason for your response, for example: "what do you want?" If you want to get information about them, you can make a response for 15 minutes. However, if you want to know about your partner, you should make a response, perhaps, it takes a couple of days or even a month. Another important thing to consider is the person's physical state. For example, if the other person is not feeling well, it is not easy to answer them. It is best to keep in mind that, if you want to have a good communication relationship with them, you have to be patient, as if you have to communicate with a single person, and you have to be patient, and you must say "I like" when the other person is responsive. Do you want to study the psychology of communication? This text is a kind of normal person. Who is responsible for how you behave? I think it is the way you are born, the environment you are born, the language you learn, the concept of communication and also the way we interact with other people. It is the environment where we live, our culture, people's culture. Communication is a fundamental element of 82157476af
